Handwritten musical score for a piece titled "Marche" (March). The score is written on six staves, each with a different instrument or voice part indicated by the label on the left:

- Corn. di (Horn): The first staff, featuring a melodic line with some rests.
- Trombe (Trumpets): The second staff, mirroring the melodic line of the horns.
- Violini (Violins): The third staff, showing a more complex, flowing melodic line.
- Fagotti (Bassoons): The fourth staff, providing a harmonic accompaniment.
- Grave (Bass): The fifth staff, providing a steady, rhythmic accompaniment.
- Violini (Violins): The sixth staff, continuing the melodic line from the third staff.

The notation is in a 19th-century style, with various note values, rests, and dynamic markings. The paper is aged and shows some staining.

Handwritten musical score on aged paper, featuring ten staves of music. The notation includes various notes, rests, and dynamic markings such as f (forte) and sf (sforzando). The score is organized into systems, with some staves containing multiple measures of music. The paper shows signs of age, including discoloration and wear along the edges.

The musical score is written on ten staves, arranged in five pairs. The notation is handwritten in dark ink. The first staff of each pair contains a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, often starting with a dynamic marking like f or sf. The second staff of each pair contains a bass line with whole and half notes, sometimes including a dynamic marking like f. The staves are connected by vertical bar lines, indicating measures of music. The paper is aged and slightly discolored, with some visible wear and tear.
